

Anna Maria Desipris

Chief Education Officer

Anna Maria Desipris is a dedicated teacher and advocate for a regenerative and abundant future. Anna Maria has extensive experience as a consultant for local governments on sustainable practices in composting, recycling and gardening.

Anna Maria has held previous positions such as Faculty of Horticulture, Director of Community Events and Culinary Education, Farm Manager, Head Beekeeper and Life Science Director.

She holds a Bachelor's degree in International Affairs, Pre-Medicine and Spanish, a Master's in Beekeeping from UC Davis and an Herbalism Certification from The Gaia School. In her free time, she loves caring for her beehives.